Activity: The activity of the Personal Introduction Card Game: The personal introduction card game begins by grouping all the cards in DINA5 format created by the participants in a deck. Then they are mixed and randomly discovered, creating groups of 4 by 4. The game consists of analyzing the teams that have arisen by chance from the concepts of complementarity in terms of roles and functions and affinity in terms of values and expectations. Once this is done, the participants propose card changes, reasoning about it.
